ROOSEVELT IS DEAD

The End Came Following Rheumatic Troubles

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The death of Theodore Roosevelt in his sleep at four o'clock this morning caused a distinct shock throughout the civilized world, when the news became known. He had remained up until 11 o'clock the night before. His wife on visiting his room this morning discovered him dead. The funeral will be private and will be held from the Christ's Episcopal Church at Oyster Bay. Interment will be in Young's Memorial cemetery.

Flags are flying at half staff throughout the Nation, and telegrams of condolence are being received from every part of the globe.

It is believed that the death of Quentin Roosevelt in France contributed largely to Roosevelt's condition which led to his death. Roosevelt was proud of Quentin's achievements and bore up under the sorrow, following the news of his death, with fortitude, in keeping with his spirit in public life.

He did not carry his heart on his sleeve and suffered the most poignant grief silently. He tried to forget by plunging all the harder into work and thus overtaxed his strength.

Theodore Roosevelt, the twenty-sixth president of the United States, was born in New York, October 27, 1858. He graduated from Harvard in 1880.

He was married to Alice Hathaway Lee, October 27, 1880. She died February 14, 1884. On December 2, 1886 he was married the second time in London, England, to Edith Kermit Carow of New York.

He was a member of the New York legislature, 1882-4; delegate to Republican National convention, 1884; resided on a ranch in North Dakota 1884-6; candidate for mayor of New York, 1886; United States Civil Service Commissioner, 1889-95; president of New York Police Board, 1895-7; Assistant Secretary of the Navy, 1897-8; resigned to organize, with Surgeon (now Major-General) Leonard Wood, First U. S. Cavalry (popularly known as Roosevelt Rough Riders); was Lieutenant-Colonel of regiment which distinguished itself in Cuba; promoted to rank of Colonel for gallantry at the battle of Las Guasimas; mustered out in September, 1898.

He was governor of New York from January 1, 1899 to December 31, 1900; elected Vice-President of the United States, November 4, 1900; succeeded to the presidency on the death of William McKinley, September 14, 1901; elected President of the United States November 8, 1904, by the largest popular majority ever accorded a candidate. Was Progressive Party candidate for President of the United States, 1912.

He was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize ($40,000) 1906; Special Ambassador of the United States to the funeral of King Edward VII, 1910. For a long time a contributor to the leading magazines and reviews. Known for years as an advocate of civil and other reforms, national and municipal; contributing editor of the Outlook, 1909-14. Has done much shooting of big game in the west; hunting trip in Africa, 1909-10; plaintiff in suit for libel against newspaper which charged him with intoxication; charge was withdrawn in open court (Marquette, Mich., May 31, 1913) and judgment immediately rendered in favor of Roosevelt, the plaintiff.

He visited South America in 1913, and delivered addresses before universities and learned societies; went to Brazil and explored (February 27-April 26, 1914) for a distance of about 600 miles, a tributary of the Mederio river, subsequently named in his honor by the Brazilian government "Reo Teodoro;" visited Madrid, Spain, June 1914, and lectured same month before the Royal Geographic Society of London.

He was defendant in a suit brought by William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, N. Y., for alleged libelous utterances contained in a statement made on July 22, 1914, charging, among other things, that the "rotteness" of the New York state government was due directly to the dominance in politics of Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall leader, and his sub-bosses abetted by Mr. Barnes, and the sub-bosses of Mr. Barnes; and that there was an invisible government of party bosses working through alliance between crooked business and crooked politics; the verdict of the jury, rendered at Syracuse, N. Y., May 22, 1915, was in favor of Roosevelt, the defendant.

He was nominated for President by the Progressive party convention at Chicago in 1916. About one month later he declined the nomination and supported Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican nominee.

He offered to raise an army division after the declaration of war with Germany, and go to France with same in 1917, but his offer was declined by President Wilson.

He was Honorable Fellow American Museum of Natural History.

The degree of LL. D. was conferred on Roosevelt by Columbia University, 1899; Hope College, 1901; Yale, 1901; Harvard, 1902; Northwestern, 1893; University of Chicago, 1908; University of California, 1903; University of Pennsylvania, 1905; George Washington University, 1909; Cambridge University, 1910.

The degree of D. C. L. was conferred on him by Oxford University, 1910.

The degree of Ph. D. was conferred on him by the University of Berlin in 1910.

Roosevelt was a linguist, speaking German and French in addition to his mother tongue—English, of which he had a wonderful command.

He was author of the following books:

PHYSICAL CULTURE CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Pursuant to a call by Mr. F. E. Gingrass a number of people met at St. Philip's Gymnasium Monday night for the purpose of organizing a physical culture club.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Gingrass who stated the object of the meeting. Mr. Gingrass was chosen as temporary chairman, and Miss O'Connor temporary secretary. More than a dozen people signified their willingness to become members. Messrs. Oscar Wickstrom, J. G. Grant and Ole Johnson were appointed a committee to draft by-laws, and outline plans for the organization.

There was another meeting last night at which the temporary organization was made permanent, and more members were enrolled. The club is to meet twice a week, Monday and Wednesday evenings, at 8 o'clock. At the meeting next Monday evening the work of the club will begin in earnest, all the members being required to take part in the exercises.

The officers are F. E. Gingrass, president; Oscar Wickstrom, vice-president; Louis Lemieux, secretary; Mrs. P. C. McCormack, treasurer. Trustees: J. G. Grant, Oscar Carlson, Mrs. T. J. Case.

The instructors are L. C. Lemieux, D. N. Lemieux, and Oscar Wickstrom.

The organizers of the club are preaching the all-importance of health as necessary for usefulness and the full enjoyment of life. Physical culture means physical development resulting in health and vigor.

Anyone interested in physical culture is invited to become a member of the club.

For some reason not forthcoming there is an unprecedented demand for curios and native work outside such as never existed before. Several persons who took out collections had no difficulty in disposing of them and there are orders on hand for large shipments, says the Nome Industrial Worker.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

Bowling is now in full swing at Dawson.

All mail for the Yukon is now fumigated.

The Cordova Home Guards have an eleven-piece orchestra.

Snowslides have been occurring on the Government railroad.

George Kelly, a Haines Indian has been declared insane at that place and will be sent to Morning-side.

Cordova is seeking some one to start a crab cannery there. Many crabs are found in Prince William sound.

Indians from the rest of the Interior country are being kept out of Dawson while the danger from influenza is on.

Naval boat Saturn which was stationed at Seward all summer installing wireless stations, is now on the way to China.

The Empress theater at Cordova has its own lighting plant. The plant is used in case of a breakdown to the city lighting system.

A. D. Thompson of Valdez was shipwrecked for 33 days on Cape Freemantle, near that place and lived all the time on flour and turnips.

Charlie David of Chicaloon, alone and unaided, saved 24 natives from death from flu, at that place, by nursing them and providing food and bedding.

An agitation is on at Cordova to have the Government expend the $100,000 that has been authorized for the erection of Government buildings at that place.

John Krikaroff, the man who wants to be married, made such a nuisance of himself that the authorities were compelled to put him in jail. He advertised for a wife and when none was forthcoming he went out after one like a cave man.—Anchorage Times.

Miner S. McLean, the Nome boy who has been called the "Apollo of the Navy," is visiting in Seattle on a furlough. He has the distinction of having been kissed by Mary Garden, the great singer.

Miss Carolyn Thompson, lately of Cordova, but now of San Francisco, is training there for the championship of that city. A San Francisco paper in commenting on the young lady said she was accustomed to swimming in the icy waters of Alaska with seals for companions and ice floes for resting places.

Walter Shields, who died recently at Nome, was the father of the "Reindeer Fair"—he was district superintendent of Native education at Nome. He had taken a great deal of interest in the reindeer industry. He entered Alaskan educational work under Sheldon Jackson, who at one time was superintendent of education for both whites and Natives in Alaska.

According to advices received from Nome there will be very little fur caught this winter along the Bering sea. The Natives of that section caught most of the fur, and owing to the ravages of influenza among the tribes there will be very few able bodied men to do any trapping this year.

Tons of tom cod are rewarding the efforts of Nome fishermen who have been putting up large quantities for dog feed. Fifty sacks was the record catch by one man recently, although this has been eclipsed by several natives who also caught enormous quantities from the schools of cod now running.

St. Philip's Guild will meet with Miss Woods Wednesday afternoon of next week. The Guild, in addition to doing Red Cross work at all its meetings, has been sending money from time to time during the last six months to the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief. This committee is now planning to devote its labors to the problems of rehabilitation and has set itself the task of raising $30,000,000 with which to care for Armenian and Syrian refugees and exiles. The campaign for raising the sum will be waged January 12-19, and at its meeting Wednesday, the Guild will take steps to send as large a sum as possible from individual subscriptions and from the society. A box is kept at the Wheeler drug store where any one interested may leave donations. The Armenian-Syrian committee hopes, with the cooperation of the State Department, to secure one or more Government transports or colliers on which to send from 100 to 300 specially qualified men and women to assist in the work of rehabilitation.

Judge Jennings, U. S. Marshal Tanner, District Attorney Reagan, J. R. Winn, and W. W. Casey, Jr. were among those aboard the City of Seattle this morning en route to Ketchikan to attend court.

H. J. Wallace left on the City of Seattle this morning for Ketchikan to attend court.

H. Gartley, president and manager of the Willson & Sylvester Mill company engaged passage to Seattle on the City of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Clark engaged passage to Ketchikan on the City of Seattle.

The Willson & Sylvester Mill company will soon be running again. Orders will be received at any time and given careful attention. The new mill is being specially equipped for handling cannery orders.

The Gibson-Sheldon stage line has ceased to operate between the coast and Fairbanks for the winter, leaving the field to the horse-drawn sleds. Gibson and Sheldon ran eight or ten autos in the mail and passenger service.

E. T. Barnette, founder of Fairbanks, recently figured in a spicy divorce suit in the San Francisco courts. From correspondence found by his wife and published at the time of the trial it would appear that Mr. Barnette was a very unwise husband or he would never have written notes to other women for his wife to get hold of; and he would have immediately destroyed those received. But he did not, so Mrs. Barnette got her divorce.

The salmon pack of the Midnight Sun cannery, the farthest north cannery in the world, run and managed by Sig Arntzen, of Bellingham, Wash., recently was shipped to the States, together with 1500 barrels of salt fish. Mr. Arntzen's outfit was lost three times by shipwreck before he succeeded in getting it to Kotzebue Sound, where he eventually made good.

Wm. Patterson, who has been in the States since the first of October, returned on the City of Seattle Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Coulter left for Seattle this morning. They will be absent about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Patenaude left this morning on the City of Seattle. Mr. Patenaude will stop at Ketchikan where he will serve as a juror. Mrs. Patenaude's destination is Tacoma. As soon as court is over Mr. Patenaude will join his wife and they will spend a vacation of two months in Tacoma.

Ed Grigwire's dandruff treatment is the best on the market. Try it and be convinced.

The Arctic Brotherhood will give a dance at the Redmen's hall next Wednesday evening. It will be an invitational affair. A competent committee on arrangement has been appointed and a good time is assured. A lunch will be served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Coulter left for Seattle this morning. They will be absent about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Patenaude left this morning on the City of Seattle. Mr. Patenaude will stop at Ketchikan where he will serve as a juror. Mrs. Patenaude's destination is Tacoma. As soon as court is over Mr. Patenaude will join his wife and they will spend a vacation of two months in Tacoma.

Wm. Patterson, who has been in the States since the first of October, returned on the City of Seattle Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Johnson left for Ketchikan on the City of Seattle this morning.

O. Gunderson, L. J. McDonald J. M. Nolan No. 2, Ole Johnson, and William Lewis went to Ketchikan on the City of Seattle.

ARKANSAS THOMAS SCATS

The average man is so stubborn that he would rather break his neck than bow his head.

You will never make a hit with a middle-aged woman by telling her that she is well preserved.

Always remember that opportunity and chance fortune are the only knockers who ever made a hit.

Isn't it funny how honest and upright a man feels when the other fellow gets caught and he doesn't.

The pastor of the Thomas Cat is not able to say. He has seen all the pictures of her, and has never discovered anything on her yet.

Another reason why we send our sons to college is because when they graduate they can come home and sneer at how little we know.

About this time of year the last crop of June brides are coming down to breakfast in the morning wearing greasy kimonos and with their hair wadded into door knobs on the backs of their heads.

Yes, Maymisse, ye pastor once kicked the Gordon press and the cat, but that was a long time ago when he was devil in a little country print shop. That was before he commenced blossoming mental morning glories and writing virile copy for the Thomas Cat. Boys usually kick the Gordon and the cat in their tadpole period before they become the whole wiggle.

ONLY A BACHELOR WOULD

Hang the crayon portrait of Aunt Anastasia over the bad place in the living room wallpaper.

Hang a towel rack over the place where the genuine marble has peeled off the bathroom wall.

By keeping the player-piano going you can easily overcome the banging of the faulty radiator in the living room.

Place a large Japanese umbrella up against the ceiling in the library where the radiator upstairs has leaked through.

Back the sideboard up against the place where the wainscoting was blistered during a chafing-dish party given by your predecessors.

Where you have too many pictures, hang them one over the other, the pictures of your relatives on the bottom and those of your wife's relatives on top.

The temperature may be made agreeable by constant exercise with wall weights, dumb-bells and rowing machines. On heatless days you can thus tell your landlord and yourself at the same time.

MAN THE MASTER

Man is fond of calling himself the "Proudest work of nature," and yet—
Many bugs can see better.

Most other animals have a much better developed sense of smell.

Many other creatures have the sense of direction, which he lacks entirely.

The flea can jump farther in proportion to its size.

The spider can teach him things about rope making.

The worms taught him how to make silk.

The wasps showed him how to make paper.

The birds can sing more sweetly.

Dumb beasts eat and drink only what is good for them.

Many other creatures possess protective coloration.

FLASHLIGHTS

Nothing pleases the average person more than to be called a "real busy man."

One can't help wondering just what school of life a man goes to to learn to boast.

The man who is loyal to his country would never be disloyal to his wife and children.

The man who has spent his money to make others happy need never have any regrets over dying poor.

Any pretty girl can get admirers, but there's something to the plain young woman who wins admiration.

If it weren't for the neighbors what would some folks do when they needed a hammer or a screwdriver?

"Really, I don't care to ride downtown in your car. It's the bumpiest rattletrap I ever entered."

"The fact is, doctor, I quit going to church when you commenced that new series of deadly dull sermons."

"No, my dear, even if you did make it yourself, this isn't a delicious strawberry shortcake. I had a better one today at the serveseif."

RUINED HIS TROUSERS.

But the Marquis Didn't Care. Since He Met a Real Genius.

The New York Yacht club was organized in 1844 at a meeting held on board John C. Stevens' schooner Gimmerack, which lay at anchor off the Battery. On Aug. 2 of that year nine vessels flying the pennant of the new club cruised to the eastward. That was the first New York Yacht club cruise. The club's first race started in the Hudson off the clubhouse in the summer of 1845. The course lay to the Sandy Hook light vessel and return. There were eleven yachts entered. The first annual regatta was held on June 6, 1849, the course being from Hoboken around the southwest spit and return. It was in 1851 that Commodore Stevens and a number of New York Yacht club members formed a syndicate and built the schooner yacht America. She crossed the ocean and won the 100 ounce silver cup offered by Queen Victoria for a free for all race around the Isle of Wight.

This is the famous America's cup, the most famous trophy in the realm of sport. Concerning the schooner tradition hands us down a rather interesting story of an incident in her career in England. The boat was designed by George Steers, then only thirty-one years old, and he and his brother built her in William H. Brown's yard at the foot of East Twelfth street. The Steers brothers accompanied her when she went to England, and as her fame grew she attracted an increasing amount of attention. One day the Marquis of Anglesea, a veteran of Waterloo, made his way aboard and asked to see the builder of the boat. An officer suggested that he call Mr. Stevens.

"Who's Mr. Stevens?" asked the visitor.

"He's the owner of this vessel."

"Did he invent her?"

"No, sir."

"Well, confound it," roared the old nobleman, "I don't care anything about the owner. I want to see the man who had brains enough to design her."

George Steers accordingly was summoned, and when the veteran saw a "mere boy" he sat down suddenly on the cabin roof. Now, his trousers were white duck and the cabin had been freshly painted green. The result may be imagined. But the marquis didn't care.

"Hang the trousers," he cried, "so long as I've seen the genius who invented this boat!"

There was a report that the commodore did not like this overmuch. At all events the Steers brothers did not remain with the boat, but returned home. They were on the steamship Baltic en route for New York when the America won the now classic cup.—New York Post.

Money Boxes.

Money boxes to encourage thrift among the penny wise are ancient and popular institutions. A dictionary of 1585 mentions "money boxes of potter's clay wherein boys put their money to keep," and doubtless the thrifty child of all ages had his money box of some sort or another. Of late years metal has come into use, but the writer has recollections of an elaborate earthenware thatched cottage, into which the money was dropped through a slit in the roof, which only infinite patience could hit again when it came to wriggling the money out.

As a lockup investment that cottage was unequalled.—Glasgow Herald.

The Insult of Irony.

Irony is an insult conveyed in the form of a compliment, placing its victim naked on a bed of briers and bristles, thinly covered with rose leaves; adorning his brow with a crown of gold, which burns into his brain; teasing and fretting and riding him through and through with incessant discharges of hot shot from a masked battery; laying bare the most sensitive and shrinking nerves of his mind and then blandly touching them with ice or smilingly pricking them with needles.—E. W. Whipple.

Between Them.

During President Lincoln's first visit to the Springfield penitentiary an old inmate looking out through the bars remarked: "Well, Mr. Lincoln, you and I ought to be well posted on prisons. We've seen all there are in the country."

"Why, this is the first one I ever visited," replied the chief executive, somewhat astounded.

"Yes," was the reply, "but I've been in all the rest."

Not Much.

Church—I understand your wife speaks several languages.

Gotham—She certainly does. Does she speak any of the dead languages?"

"Well, take it from me, there's no language I ever heard her use that sounds anything like dead."—Yonkers Statesman.

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Quickly Eased By Penetrating Hamlin's Wizard Oil

A safe and harmless preparation to relieve the pains of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lamie Back and Lumbago is Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates quickly, drives out soreness, and limbers up stiff aching joints and muscles.

You will find almost daily uses for it in cases of sudden mishaps or accidents such as sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for earache, toothache, croup and colic.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.

The easiest way to extract the wet part of water from an ordinary goblet is to drink it.

While a pound of feathers do not weigh any more than a pound of lead, they are not as painful when bounced on your head.

If all the pins in the world were placed end to end they would reach around the world seven times and it would take twice as long to pick them up as it did to lay them down.

DON'T BE STUNG

A bee holder is a beehive.

A spectator is a beholder.

Hypothesis—Rotten potato.

A rotten 'tater is a spec 'tater.

To Prove—A rotten potato is a bee-hive.

Proof—A rotten potato is a rotten 'tater.

Hence—A rotten potato is a beehive. Boys' Life.

HOT WEATHER DON'TS

Don't encroach on your neighbor's sidewalk when shoveling snow.

Don't let the children go to bed with cold feet—or your wife, either.

Don't put your skates on the register to thaw out. It's a very untidy habit.

Don't handicap your poor horse in his fly fighting by putting a heavy blanket on him.

Don't impose on the conductor by requiring 95 cents change when the weather is below zero.

Don't return your neighbor's snow shovel too hastily. There may be another heavy fall in a month or so.

Don't abandon your automobile in a deep drift. The humane society is watching for just such opportunities as this.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

The greatest homage we can pay to truth is to use it.—Emerson.

Let a broken man cling to his work. If it saves nothing else it will save him.—Beecher.

The great secret of success in life is for a man to be ready when his opportunity comes.—Bisrael.

The truest style of eloquence, secular or sacred, is practical reasoning animated by strong emotion.—Anon.

Things that never happen are often as much realities to us in their effects as those that are accomplished.—Dickens.

Eloquence is the transference of thought and emotion from one heart to another, no matter how it is done.—Gough.

There are men whose independence of principle consists in having no principle on which to depend—whose free thinking consists not in thinking freely, but in being free from thinking, and whose common sense is nothing more than the sense that's most common.—Dr. M. W. Jacob.

There is a broad distinction between character and reputation, for one may be destroyed by slander, while the other can never be ruined save by its possessor. Reputation is in man's keeping. You and I cannot determine what other men shall think and say about us. We can only determine what they ought to think of us and say about us, and we can only do this by acting squarely up to our convictions.—Holman—Chicago Post.

SHORT CUTS TO KNOWLEDGE

Used matches have little or no value in Iceland.

The common sparrow will not, as a rule, attack a man unless provoked.

The inventor of pajamas died without realizing any considerable fortune from his idea.

The offense of "masquerading in female attire" is not punishable by death in the United States navy.

In Vermont, the horses outnumber the marriageable males; over in Veneice it's the other way round.

Platinum has been suggested as the best material for golf balls, but nothing has as yet come of the proposal.

A Scandinavian archaeologist has proved conclusively that the Garden of Eden was not surrounded by railings.

The ordinary house fly can lift nearly eight times its own weight, but it is seldom employed for this purpose in America.

A small cork, thrust to the bottom of a bathtub full of water, will, when released, come to the surface rapidly. This can be tried at home.

TEXAS TIPS

As a general thing we greatly admire a black frock coat, but it doesn't look nice on a man who perspires through it.

Another reason why a man never gets quite enough money is because he always wants one more piece of property.

What has become of the old-fashioned gallant who put woman on a pedestal and left her to starve to death up there?

Our position simply is that no man ought to be allowed to grow the kind of whiskers that look like nonessential industry.

If the truth could be discovered, probably it would be found that it makes a horsefly pretty sore to try to get blood out of a flyver.

Of course we have other troubles, but we don't have to press our hair down with one hand while we put our hat on with the other.—Dallas News.

SHAKAN MINE CLOSED DOWN

(Douglas News)

Orders came to the people in charge of the molybdenite property at Shakan which is being developed by the Treadwell company at Shakan, to close down.

All work was stopped at once and the men left for Douglas. Those folks who were coming to Gastineau Channel chartered a big gas boat and arrived here this morning.

Among them were included Supt. Peter Johnson, Carl Carlson and wife and family and other well known former employees of Treadwell.

Considerable work has been done towards the development of the Shakan property by the Treadwell company. A long tunnel had been driven and the trestle from the beach to the mine was almost complete.

It is thought that the works were closed down owing to the uncertainty of the metal market on account of the closing of the war and that operations will be resumed as soon as conditions become normal again.

Four Minute Men Disband

The Four Minute organization disbanded on December 24. W. H. Warren, who was the local Four Minute chairman, rendered a patriotic service in keeping before Wrangell audiences the excellent messages of the Government committee on public information. Those who did the speaking are also to be commended. Mr. Samuel Cunningham of the Rex Photoshow cooperated with the organization. The three lodges of Wrangell also enrolled as Four Minute organizations and there was a four minute address at each of their meetings during the past year.

It has been estimated that more than a million four minute speeches were delivered throughout the country to audiences totalling four hundred millions. It is estimated that the average audience for each campaign exceeded eleven millions.

Just before the Four Minute organization disbanded President Wilson wrote the following letter acknowledging the receipt of the final report on their work:

"I have read with real interest the report of your activities, and I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the value to the Government of your effective and inspiring efforts. It is a remarkable record of patriotic accomplishment that an organization of 75,000 speakers should have carried on so extensive a work at a cost to the Government of little more than $100,000 for the 18-month period less than one dollar yearly on an individual basis.

"Each member of your organization, in receiving honorable discharge from the service, may justly feel a glow of proper pride in the part that he has played in holding fast the inner lines. May I say that I, personally, have always taken the deepest and most sympathetic interest in your work, and have noted, from time to time, the excellent results you have procured in his plant on the Kobuk.

for the various departments of the Government.

"Now that this work has come to its conclusion and the name of the Four Minute Men (which I venture to hope will not be used henceforth by any similar organization) has become a part of the history of the great war, I would not willingly omit my heartfelt testimony to its great value to the country, and indeed to civilization as a whole, during our period of national trial and triumph.

"I shall always keep in memory the patriotic cooperation and assistance accorded me throughout this period and shall remain deeply and sincerely grateful to all who like yourselves, have aided so nobly in the achievement of our aims."

J. C. (Red) Rogers of Fairbanks recently left for the outside. Rogers, during his residence in the country, has been in nearly every camp of the North, landing in Alaska during the boom days. An assayer by vocation, he often during the early days found values and colors in friendships.

Conditions at Circle City are reported to be very quiet. A great many of the people of that district have gone outside. Game is reported as being plentiful in that region, especially moose and caribou, the hunters having no difficulty in securing all they need. No cases of sickness are reported in the camp.

On account of the lack of transportation the Kennecott Copper corporation loses approximately $245 every 24 hours according to figures prepared by Cordova statisticians. Valdez statisticians have computed that every time the Kennecott Copper company loses this sum the Alaska Steamship company tacks it on to freight rates of Valdez merchants, which accounts for the H. C. L.—Valdez Miner.

Sam Magids put up 400 barrels of salmon bellies and salmon trout in his plant on the Kobuk.

RED CROSS

The Wrangell chapter A. R. C. has received two certificates which put it on the Honor Roll; one for knitting and one for hospital garments. This should be a source of gratification to the workers in the Wrangell chapter.

The Wrangell chapter has received word from headquarters that there will be no more knitting allotments. The chapter, however, has on hand enough yarn for six sweaters which is desirable to have knitted as soon as possible to close this department.

The local Red Cross chapter has decided to have no more Friday afternoon collections for the present. The funds in the treasury are sufficient to defray all expenses incurred in connection with work that is being done at this time.

Peter Matiyashevich, who recently paid a visit to a friend on Goldstream, can certify that the bears that infest that district are becoming civilized and resent any intrusion of their domain. Pete was on his way down Nugget creek and being tired from his climb off Ester Dome, decided he needed a smoke and snow being on the ground, repaired to a bunch of old cabins on the lower end of the creek. He entered one and reaching for the "makings" proceeded towards a bunk in one corner. From the darkness a huge bear advanced toward him with arms outspread and a loud "g-r-r-h." He stood paralyzed for a second and from another corner of the cabin came another bear in a hostile attitude. Considering that he had intruded at an inauspicious moment Pete beat a retreat, and looking backward saw one of the brutes looking out of the window to see that he was going in the right direction and the other coming out the door to see that he kept going. After running several miles Pete discovered he was pretty warm and says that he was as hot as the middle of July with no thermometer. Pete is figuring on having some calling cards printed before he calls at any more bear cabins.

Turnips which are world beaters for size and quality were displayed in Dawson recently. Seven of them weighed 178 pounds. The largest of the bunch weighed 44 pounds, and is 44 inches in circumference. Of the seven the weights respectively are: 44, 30 $\frac{1}{2}$, 24, 21, 20 $\frac{1}{2}$, 20 and 18 pounds. The length of each turnip from tip of root to tip of tops is 56 inches. They were grown on the ranch of the Canadian Klondyke company at Bonanza Basin, by Clarence Kelton.

It is reported that one hundred and forty-nine persons, including natives and whites died at Nome from an epidemic of influenza last month. The report has not been confirmed but it is known that many died.

Efficiency and thrift are being attained by the miners of Quartz creek, the first of the gold producing camps ever staked in the locality of Dawson. The miners are not only taking out the gold necessary for the purchase of their mining equipment and other essential articles, but are also producing their own foodstuffs. During the last summer a number of them planted and raised no inconsiderable quantity of grain.

Found—A leather purse, almost new. Owner may recover by calling at Sentinel office.

St. Philip's Church

Memorial Service

"The chariot of Israel and the horseman thereof."

With these words, a king described an old prophet, and with similar expressions, the American people speak of Theodore Roosevelt.

It is fitting therefore that a memorial service be held, and such will be held at St. Philip's church Sunday evening Jan. 12 at 7:30. The address will speak of his early boyhood days, his early political, and military career, his work as President, his life as a man of science, and a prophet of civic common sense and righteousness.

The total gold output of the Yukon for the years 1885 to 1916 was 8,060,768 ounces, valued at $166,630,884. One dollar is equal to $0.048375 oz.

Good Work Is Our Specialty

God Gave You Health. Thank Him For It. Go to Church.

OME people never think of God until a loved one is ill or a great trouble besets them. Then they seek the SOLACE OF RELIGION. A clergyman is called in, and prayers are said at the bedside for the loved one's recovery. God is MERCIFUL, and oftentimes these prayers are answered, and the loved one recovers.

IT IS NOT FAIR TO GOD, HOWEVER, TO ASK HIM TO REMEMBER YOU WHEN YOU HAVE FORGOTTEN HIM. WHEN EVERYTHING IS GOING ALONG SMOOTHLY AND THE WORLD LOOKS BRIGHT SOME MEN FORGET THERE IS A GOD. THEY NEVER GO TO CHURCH. WHILE THEY WILL RESENT THE CHARGE THAT THEY WOULD OPENLY OFFEND GOD, THEY OFFEND HIM DEEPLY BY NOT GOING TO CHURCH. THE SUCCESSFUL MAN SHOULD GO TO CHURCH TO THANK GOD FOR HIS WORLDLY GIFTS. THE SUPREME BEING GAVE HIM ALL HE HAS—LIFE, HEALTH, HAPPINESS—AND HE SHOULD THANK HIM FOR THEM.

Thanks to the GO TO CHURCH movement, there has been a religious awakening over the land. RELIGION NEVER WAS DEAD. All that it required was a stimulus, and that stimulus was provided by the GO TO CHURCH campaign. It should not be necessary to urge men to GO TO CHURCH. There isn't an argument that can be advanced by any man who believes in God in favor of staying away from church. Take away the churches and you will have a condition bordering on anarchy.

The man who GOES TO CHURCH is prepared to MEET ANY CRISIS, moral, physical or financial. His faith in a Supreme Being sustains him in the most severe trials.

JOIN THE GO TO CHURCH THRONG NEXT SUNDAY.
